WICHITA MARKETS,

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards for 48 hours-54 cattle, 664 hogs. Shipments 155 cattle, The receipts were the lightest for several weeks. There were not enough cattle to go around or hardly make a market. The market ruled strong on good to choice cattle. Everything in the yards in shape of cattle, changed hands, and at good prices for the quality. The hog market opened 2 1-2 cents higher and ruled strong at the advance throughout the day. Light runs both here and Kansas City. The market closed strong.

Chicago Grain and Produce.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—A fair volume of business was transacted in wheat today and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Early in the day the feeling was weak, the opening $4,004c lower than the closing figures Saturday and prices declined later 15c for July and 15c for deferred futures then became stronger and prices advanced 14c2c, cased off some and the closing was about 3c lower for July, $4c lower for Angust and $5c lower for September than the closing Saturday. Warm and forcing weather and pilenty of rain had a weakenweather and plenty of rain had a weaken ing over the yards in company with W. E. ingreffect.

There was a good business transacted in corn within a office range, the feeling pre-vailing being a little unsettled, the market ruling weak early and a little steadier later though the undertone was not strong. Outs were fairly active and closed steady Very little trading was done in pork and rice changes were unimportant. Rather more doing in lard and the feel-

g was weak.

At sunset we encamped! And what a winsot: There was still the same simplici-ty of the desert, for all the giery in sky and mountain was not aided by a single cloud. The west was brillians with pure gold, while the hills With southwast glower with a burnished blending of red and blue like the bloom on a plan. Every erag and val-ley at od out duting, while the custime of the range was thurply penciled against the deep purple of the sky, which changed im-parceptibly to a binahing crimson and then paired upward to a cheer star pierced blue. Above our break there was no longer a rounded done it seemed to disselve into an infilties number of colored particles, each radiating a light of purplish blue. Long, thin lines of shadow were cast by the tiny sage tashes as the western light slanted over the plain. The great wide plain, so ellent all day, seemed brained to a more solemn stillness.—Frederick J. Bliss

The Limper's frent Strength. "At Folkestone, By means of accurate appliances," says Mr. Lowesses Remitton, "I found that the common sembore limpet, which, deprived of, its shell, weighed a mirate fractiffs into these half as since, mirate fractifa has then half an strong required, when pulled according to its place of adherim, a stern exempting sixty-two pounds to remove it from his powerful grip upon the feast Illustrate loss this mak, or upward of 1,504 times his own dead weight. The submitted area of the base of this individual founds that and which is adjusted in the atmospheric pressure at 14.7 pounds to the pulled the power for the feast plants, or little more than helf the power commission. little more than helf the power exercised in the air by this sia must which, acting upon immersed, bijectoin the water, would, of course, have pushed a more presser weight than that of Appaunds.

Thus in the airs impet pulled up to 221 pounds, but subsequently, in spite of its previous Intigue, when covered over by the incoming this, is fook upward of 54 pounds to remove it. I disible whather the impet's aubeave from his snything to do with the question of stroughed operation. In other experiments even hits of reck come away sticking to the impet's embrace."-
